What to expect on your safari

TARANGIRE NATIONAL PARK: Day 2

One of the lesser-known game reserves in Tanzania, Tarangire rivals the Serengeti in its great number and diversity of wildlife. The Tarangire National Park is known as a wonderful birding destination and also features large numbers of game. In particular, Tarangire is known to host some of the largest elephant herds in Africa and dramatic interactions between predator and prey at the park water holes.

A lioness is perched on a thick, mossy tree branch, looking off to the left. The background is filled with dense green foliage and tree branches, creating a natural, wild setting. The lighting is soft, suggesting a late afternoon or early morning scene.

What to expect on your safari

LAKE MANYARA NATIONAL PARK: Day 3

Lake Manyara National Park centres around its eponymous alkaline lake, a key habitat for hundreds of bird species. It is home to a famous tree-climbing lion population and a large variety of eco-systems ranging from steep mountainside and dense woodlands to Rift Valley soda lake. There is always something interesting to see and experience in the Lake Manyara region.

What to expect on your safari

CENTRAL SERENGETI: Day 4-5

The Serengeti in Tanzania is undoubtedly the best-known wildlife sanctuary in the world. With countless predators and millions of wildebeests and zebras, the vast plains of the Serengeti will offer you unforgettable memories. The Central Serengeti is studded with many rocky granite outcrops, known as kopjes, where you will be looking out for lions, and cheetahs. Thick woodland is home to several varieties of primates from vervet monkeys, olive baboons to bushbabies and on the plains, elephants are seen in numbers.

What to expect on your safari

NORTHERN SERENGETI: Day 6-7

Every year, one of the most extraordinary wildlife events is taking place. Over a million wildebeest and several hundred thousand zebra undertake a year-long migration through the Serengeti-Mara ecosystem in search of nutritious grass and water. The migration takes place from the Ngorongoro Conservation area, up the Serengeti to the Maasai Mara and back again. From August to October, witness large gatherings of wildebeest ready to overcome all dangers to cross the Mara river.

What to expect on your safari

NGORONGORO CONSERVATION AREA: Day 4

Ngorogoro crater, the largest inactive, intact and unflooded caldera in the world, was formed when a volcano exploded and collapsed in on itself 2 to 3 million years ago. It is now one of the best places in Africa for wildlife viewing, with the Big 5 and an extraordinary concentration of predators in the area.
